The Positive Discipline Way

Become a Certified Positive Discipline Parent Educator

Teaching Parenting the Positive Discipline Way (developed by Lynn Lott and Jane Nelsen) is a research-based parent education program that provides a step-by-step approach to starting and leading experientially based parenting groups. This program provides experiential activities that reach the heart to inspire deeper understanding and change.

Participants will:

1. Learn research-based effective parenting tools that are mutually respectful, create connection, empower children to feel capable, and encourage children's innate desire to contribute.
2. Deepen your understanding of the Adlerian approach to parenting.
3. Practice facilitating a parenting class from the position of a non-expert. Experience is not necessary!
4. Learn how to use the manual to facilitate activities for small or large group settings. Teachers and counselors welcome!
5. Join over 20,000 members across the globe who want to create healthy respectful relationships and keep the joy in parenting!

FACILITATOR: Jody Malterre MAEd, Certified Positive Discipline Trainer, Montessori Trainer, Consultant, One on One Parent Coach

I've enjoyed work both as a Positive Discipline Trainer and a Montessori teacher trainer for many years. This work has given me opportunities to help teachers, administrators and parents.

Jody Malterre

My work as a Positive Discipline and Montessori trainer has been in the US and Internationally. I frequently offer certification workshops, Professional Development for schools, parenting classes, and one on one parent coaching. It is through my experiences as a classroom teacher, administrator, trainer, and most importantly, a parent of two daughters, that I draw upon stories and experiences to help others. I also help businesses using my skills as a facilitator of Empowering People in the Workplace.

I hold a certificate in Advanced Adlerian Studies through the Idaho Society of Individual Psychology and a Montessori credential for kids ages 2-12. Currently I enjoy serving as a Co-Chair of the Educators Section of North American Adlerian Society of Adlerian Psychology (NASAP).
