TEACHING PARENTING THE POSITIVE DISCIPLINE WAY

Become a Certified Positive Discipline Parent Educator!

Developed by Lynn Lott and Jane Nelsen, Teaching Parenting the Positive Discipline Way is a research-based parent education program that provides a step-by-step approach to starting and leading experientially based parenting groups. This program stands alone or offers significant enhancement to any program. It provides experiential activities that reach the heart to inspire deeper understanding and change.

Participants will:

- Learn research based effective tools and techniques for teaching parents how to use discipline that is kind and firm at the same time (non-punitive, non-permissive).
- Learn how to facilitate a parent class from the position of a non-expert.
- Gain practice with experiential exercises that help parents go beyond intellectual understanding to be able to respond in empowering ways that teach children.
- Learn how to use materials and activities in group settings, parenting classes and individual work with families.

About the trainers:

Carol Does is a Certified Positive Discipline Lead Trainer, with extensive experience working with parents of all age groups, from prenatal to adult children, and educators and staff from preschool to high school. She co-founded Positive Discipline of Connecticut, served as Co-Chair of the International Board of Directors of the Positive Discipline Association, and actively mentors Positive Discipline practitioners. Carol's personal life also reflects the benefits of Positive Discipline, with her enduring relationships with her husband and two adult sons.

Foteini Karagrigori, a dedicated Greek Secondary School Teacher and Positive Discipline Provisional Trainer, seamlessly incorporates Positive Discipline into her teaching, cultivating self-discipline, problem-solving, and responsibility in students. Beyond the classroom, she empowers parents, caregivers, and educators with practical Positive Discipline tools, fostering a supportive community for children's growth and development. Join her in revolutionizing parenting and education through Positive Discipline.
